Continuity of Education Programming in Emergency Situations

Board Policy

The board acknowledges and accepts its responsibility to provide each student enrolled in a school operated by the board an education program consistent with the requirements of the Education Act.

The board acknowledges and accepts its responsibility to provide each student enrolled in a school operated by the board an education program consistent with the requirements of the Education Act. Because the school is fully online, the provisions related to in-person learning and transitions between “in-person” and “at-home” learning do not apply. The board affirms that its flexible online programming ensures continuity of education for all students during any emergency situation, thereby upholding the standards of education set by the Minister and ensuring that students’ academic progress is not interrupted. The board is also committed to supporting the health and well-being of students and will work with individual students and school communities to make any necessary adjustments to course plans so that learners can continue to experience success during emergencies. Should the board in the future offer in-person education, it will do so in full alignment with the requirements of the Education Act.
